

Spartan Suitcase.com

Spartan suitcase is a collaborative website based on the accomplishments and relevant news of professional organizations here on campus told by the personal stories of the members who live it driven by the sharing and interacting of information by other users.

SpartanSuitcase creates the opportunity for the leaders of professional organizations on campus to be their own voice with one integrative network to collaborate with their peers and fellow professional organization members. SpartanSuitcase delivers a platform for members to support other organizations and keep up to date with current events. This website takes the power of information and gives it in the control of the users as opposed to the school or any institution.
